Based in Surrey, Venus Health & Beauty is an innovative salon offering non-surgical treatments that enhance natural beauty and improve wellbeing. The company was established in 2010 by Mohbeen Karim, who has had a passion for the industry since she was a teenager. She created the salon with the belief that everybody has the ability to create a better version of themselves, and that the treatments at Venus Health & Beauty can aid them in achieving those goals. To bring this vision to life, Mohbeen has invested in leading industry treatments and products for her clients, who have access to the very best beauty solutions on the market.

Venus Health & Beauty couples its high-quality treatment programme with exceptional customer service, which is a huge priority for the salon. This combined focus ensures that customers return again and again, building a loyal client base that frequently refers friends and family to the salon as more than 90% of the salon's new business is from customer referrals. The company's programme shows a great deal of versatility, offering hair and facial treatments alongside non-invasive and specialist skincare solutions, and MediSpa treatments that include lash lifts and microdermabrasion. The range of intense pulsed light (IPL) and LED phototherapy services are the ideal tonic for a range of skin conditions, such as acne, dermatitis, rosacea, and eczema, whilst they also boost natural collagen levels which has anti-ageing effects and improves the skin's elasticity.

The judging panel commended Venus Health & Beauty for offering alternatives to surgery or invasive treatments whilst also being impressed by the phenomenal results they are able to achieve.

This is made possible due to recent advancements and innovations within the industry which Venus Health & Beauty have been quick to incorporate into their treatments. A prime example of this is the Venus Light Lounge, a service that goes beyond the limitations of standard facial treatments that are commonly found in beauty spas. It uses the advantages of wavelengths from LED light, which benefits all skin types – even the most sensitive – and offers lasting effects such as stimulating blood circulation and the production of anti-oxidants, which are key to attaining healthy and radiant skin. It is delivered from the comfort of an armchair, lasting as little as 20 minutes and is completely safe for children as young as 12. The knowledgeable salon team offer services based on the client's needs and requirements, determined to boost their self-esteem and assist them in reaching their goals.
